The Citrus Fair—Bigamy Trial at Stockton—Flouring Mills Burned in Oregon—Fatal Runaway Accident in Idaho—Funeral of the Victim of the Napa County Tragedy—Another Murder by the Earp Party in Arizona—Etc.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE RECORD-UNION.]

STOCKTON, March 23d.—The case of The People vs. E. J. Cripe is exciting great interest here. Defendant is charged with bigamy, in marrying one Madgie Moore while he had a lawful wife still living in the person of Amelia J. Atwood. Both marriages were solemnized in San Francisco. Certified copies of both marriage licenses were produced by the prosecution from the County Recorder of San Francisco. Both ladies appeared in Court to-day. It is claimed for the defense that Cripe believed his first marriage to be void, on account of information to the effect that Mrs. Atwood had a husband living at that time. A copy of a decree of divorce from Mrs. Atwood's former husband was, however, produced by the prosecution, dated more than a year before the alleged marriage to defendant. The case went over until to-morrow at 10 o'clock, the jury in the meantime being placed in charge of the Sheriff.

The Napa County Tragedy—Burial of the Victim.

ST. HELENA, March 23d.—The funeral of the late John C. Weinberger, of this place, who was murdered by a former employe, named Wm. J. Gau, on the 21st inst., took place this afternoon, under the auspices of the Masonic Order, of which he was a prominent officer, and also of the Wine-growers' Association. The flags were at half-mast and all the stores closed. He has been largely identified with the wine interest, and with every interest pertaining to the prosperity of the place and the good of the public. His death is a great loss to this community. Gau was buried by direction of the Coroner yesterday.

Sunday Law Case at Los Angeles.

LOS ANGELES, March 23d.—The case of Jacob Philippi, who has been on trial before City Justice Adams on a charge of violating the Sunday law for three days, was given to the jury at 3 o'clock this afternoon. The jury has notified the Court that they cannot agree, but they are still out, and are likely to be kept out till morning. The accused is a member of the League of Freedom.

The Citrus Fair.

RIVERSIDE, March 23d.—The fair is an unqualified success. The town is full of visitors, and beds are at a premium. The display is three times greater than ever before. The exhibits are arranged on five broad tables, extending lengthwise of the pavilion fifty feet. This being inadequate, another table has been placed upon the stage at the west end. Owing to the non-arrival of chandeliers, the formal opening was postponed until this evening. The Riverside display covers four large tables. San Diego fills one table, making the finest exhibit of any locality outside of this county. The display of raisins and canned fruit is extensive and very fine.

[SECOND DISPATCH.]

RIVERSIDE, March 23d.—The formal opening of the Citrus Fair took place this evening, all the vacant space in the hall being filled by an intelligent and appreciative audience. The meeting was called to order at 8 o'clock by H. B. Everest, President of the Riverside Citrus Fair Association, prayer offered by Rev. Mr. Deere, and the opening address was delivered by H. J. Rudisell. Then followed short speeches by old settlers, including Judge North, the first President of the Colony Association, and General Stoneman, of San Gabriel. Essays upon citrus culture were read, and the exercises closed with the announcement of the Committee of Award. There have been 454 entries of citrus fruits, all of which are worthy of premiums.

ARIZONA.

Another Murder by the Earp Party.

TOMBSTONE, March 23d.—This afternoon Theodore D. Judah came in from Pete Spencer's wood camp in the south pass of the Dragoons, and gave an Epitaph reporter the following information: Yesterday morning, about 11 o'clock, Wyatt and Warren Earp, Doc. Holliday, McMasters, Texas Jack and Johnson, came into camp and inquired for Pete Spencer and Indian Charley, the number of men there and their whereabouts. Judah informed them that Spencer was in Tombstone, and a Mexican named Florentina was looking for some stock which had strayed away. Judah indicated the direction taken by the Mexican, and the party immediately left as directed, passing over a hill which hid them from view. In a few minutes ten or twelve shots were heard. Florentina not returning this morning, Judah proceeded in search of him, and found his body not far from the camp, riddled with bullets. Judah immediately came to town with the news.

NEVADA.

VIRGINIA, March 23d.—It is now stated that the bonanza firm will pay the sum due the county and State which has been in litigation since 1876, without further legal contest. The remittitur of the Supreme Court has not yet been received by the County Clerk, and until it is there can be no action taken in the case, one way or another. The amount is between $70,000 and $90,000.

Safe Robbed—A Printer Burglar—Died of His Injuries—Not Expected to Live—Liquor Licenses—Crop Outlook—Pleaded Guilty.

PORTLAND, March 23d.—A Dayton special says: On the 20th inst. a bag containing between $410 and $500 was taken from a safe in the Columbia Hotel, of which M. P. Charles is proprietor. The money was taken while he was out of the hotel. Frank Day, a printer from Pomeroy, was arrested in Walla Walla and brought here to-day, charged with the burglary. The circumstances point strongly to his guilt.

Louis Wittmer, a laborer in the employ of the Oregon Railway and Navigation Company, who was hurt by a bank caving on him a few days since, died to-day from the effect of his injuries.

Harry Lyon, who was shot at Baker City three weeks ago by Dan Patton, for alleged criminal intimacy with the latter's wife, has pyæmia, and is not expected to recover.

The dead bodies of Bernard McCann and Patrick Flanagan, firemen, and a man named Maloney, have been recovered. John Lyons, the engineer, and two others are missing. Immediately following the explosion flames broke out in all directions. Pier No. 8, occupied as a passenger and freight station of the Philadelphia and Atlantic City Railroad, took fire, and was destroyed. The tug Ella Lynch, at the wharf, also took fire and sank, after being well burned. The windows were shattered in all directions for squares. Three dead bodies were found in the street. The engineer has been found, having had a very narrow escape. The front of the ferry-house building was blown out, and the watchman came near losing his life.

Edison's Electric Railway.

NEW YORK, March 23d.—Several miles of Edison's electric railway at Menlo Park are now completed, and a few days ago the pupils of Professor Sloan's school at Bergen Point, N. J., about thirty in number, were carried over the road by electricity at the rate of over twenty miles per hour. Edison's track is like that of an ordinary railroad, involving curves and grades, one being over thirty feet to the mile, with the various obstacles of ravines, streams and rocks. The car resembles our modern horse-car. The electricity is communicated from wires, one connecting with each track. The tracks are insulated by covering the ends of the ties with a nonconductive compound. The wheels take up electricity from the tracks and communicate with a dynamo-electric machine-gearing in the locomotive. Thus is given to the train a noiseless, rapid, pleasant motion, unattended with smoke, cinders and clatter.

The Arizona Trouble—The Earps and Their Opponents.

TOMBSTONE, March 23d.—The Coroner's jury find that Morgan S. Earp came to his death at the hands of Frank Stillwell, who was killed next day at Tucson. Pete Spence, one Freis and two half-breed Indians. Pete Spence's wife exposed the plot. A Sheriff's posse, consisting of twenty men, mostly cowboys, left this morning for Dragoon mountains, where the Earps are supposed to be at present. The Sheriff made a weak attempt to arrest them at the Cosmopolitan Hotel before they left, but Wyatt Earp told him he didn't want to see him; that he had seen him once too often, and thereupon the Earp party mounted their horses and rode away. There is a very uneasy feeling among the cowboy element, as the Earps are rendered desperate by the attempted assassination of Virgil Earp and the cold-blooded murder of Morgan Earp.

Tantalizing the Liver.

Many persons fancy they are remedying bilious habit when they are merely tantalizing the liver by repeated and large doses of powerful drugs, which rather inflame than stimulate it. Calomel and blue pill are both objectionable, particularly when used to the extent that some people use them for simple biliousness and constipation, and botanic purgatives of a drastic nature exert no direct influence upon the bile-secreting organ. The benignant alterative, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, while it is an efficient stimulant of the liver, promoting bilious secretion and regular evacuation, never affects either the liver or bowels excessively, but both in its laxative and antibilious action, is painless and agreeable. It counteracts malarial influences, cures indigestion, is a superlative tonic, and is a salutary diuretic. The weak and the aged are invigorated and solaced by it.

CABINET TALK.

There is a renewal of the rumors about Cabinet changes, and this time Teller is placarded for the Interior Department. It is said that he has also become so certain of his nomination as to go about among his friends telling them of it, and that he has already begun to "name the day," on which his nomination will be sent in. It is only among flies and men that such complete disregard of the teachings of experience is encountered. A fly will walk calmly and deliberately into the trap which already contains the bodies of his friends and companions, or will survey their disasters with an indifference which speaks volumes for his phlegm. In the same way a Teller will jump to the conclusion that he is infallibly booked for the Interior Department, regardless of the fact that a few weeks ago precisely the same assertion was made concerning Mr. Sargent. Is Teller more secure than Sargent had a right to feel? We do not think that is possible. Has he any better guarantees than Sargent had? That, too, is incredible. What madness, then, has inspired him thus to court destruction, when it is obvious that the President cannot give him any foreign mission better worth having than Chile, Peru or Bolivia? The folly of his boasting indeed is already shown, for the dark shadow of Grant passes over the board, and on the opposite side the figure of Chaffee looms up, menacing and ominous. In times like these it behooves the wise politician to hold his peace until he has his commission in his pocket, signed, sealed and delivered; for between cup and lip so many slips are recorded that everything in the shape of certainty would seem to be excluded. Mr. Teller will no doubt be Secretary of the Interior if he is nominated, and he will be nominated unless some other person is, and probably he will be confirmed if his name ever gets before the Senate. But in the light of past events sensible men will decline to discuss such vague contingencies as these, and will await the actual event before expressing an opinion.

THE WHITTAKER CASE.

It is not quite easy to discover the true inwardness of the last phase in the Whittaker case, but the presumption is that the President has decided to pardon Whittaker and turn him out of the service, instead of keeping him in it and punishing him. And probably this is the best way to get rid of the case. There can be no doubt of the young man's guilt, and it is equally clear that his offense grew in a considerable measure out of his peculiar situation at West Point. After what has happened it would be useless to keep him there, and it is perhaps unnecessary to punish him any more. To turn him out and let him go, seems therefore the most practical solution of the whole matter.

THE MUTUAL UNION.

If, as alleged, Jay Gould has secured a majority of the Mutual Union Telegraph Company's stock, the independent career of that association must be regarded as closed. The statement in the affirmative has been made with much circumstantiality, and it seems credible. It is true that some officers of the Mutual Union continue to deny it, but if the change of ownership really has taken place, it will not be long before the fact becomes known, no matter what attempts are made to conceal it.

PASSAGE OF THE CHINESE BILL IN THE HOUSE.

The Chinese bill passed in the House yesterday, without amendment, by a vote of 177 to 65. This is in several respects a remarkable vote. The total number of Representatives is 293. Of these no more than 242 voted at all on the bill. This shows that public sentiment at the East has not come round to the California view of the Chinese question, for had such a change of opinion taken place it is certain that 51 Representatives would not have evaded a vote on this question, as they have done. The peculiar conditions under which the bill has been passed indicate that nothing but the political considerations saved it. It was the fear of losing the votes of the Pacific States, and scarcely any other influence, which secured for the bill the very partial support it had, and the very unwilling neutrality which prevented it from being ignominiously slaughtered. And this analysis also shows that the state of feeling about the measure is so far from being unanimous, that the President's assent cannot be taken for granted.

He is in a position to perceive clearly the political implications of legislation, and he is practically independent of public opinion. The diplomatic view of the case is likely to impress him, moreover, and the commercial view may be utilized against the bill also. The question with him, supposing that he is a candidate for re-election, is, whether he will lose more in New England than he will gain on the Pacific Coast, by signing the bill. For it must be realized that however grave and serious the dangers of Chinese immigration may appear to Californians, the Eastern people do not regard the question with anything like the same earnestness, and in fact do not believe that the California view is correct. They attribute the latter mainly to the glamour of local prejudice, and the demagogism of local politicians and journals. They point to the actual numbers of the Chinese among us, and to the fact that they have not appreciably increased for several years, and ridicule our apprehensions as puerile and insincere, born of the tendency to truckle to Sand Lot threats, and having no greater significance than to placate the "great unwashed" for the sake of their votes. The argument of Mr. George F. Seward that if the Chinese had or could have votes, the Chinese question would disappear, is no doubt regarded at the East as exceedingly cogent and keen. For the people in those States have observed the manner in which their own politicians pander to every voting element, and how respectfully they treat every such element, and they not unnaturally conclude that if the Chinaman had the ballot he would not need defenders long.

Even so intelligent a journal as the Nation takes sides against the promoters of the bill, and expresses the opinion that "there has never been anything in recent "politics so absurd as the terror, real or "affected, about the numbers of the Chi-"nese, except the pretense of the San "Francisco hoodlums that they compete "with them in the labor market. There "is hardly a lazy vagabond or tramp in the "United States who does not try to be-"lieve that the Chinaman is keeping him "out of work." Thus we see one of the most enlightened of American journals declaring its belief that the San Francisco hoodlums complain of Chinese competition. And this shows how little the Nation understands the hoodlum. The latter is by no means the person to complain of Chinese competition, for he does not work at anything himself, unless it be crime, and though he is always ready to maltreat the Chinese, he despises them too thoroughly to dread their rivalry. But when such a paper as the Nation takes this view it is evident that our eloquent Senators and Representatives have not succeeded in changing Eastern opinion on the subject, and that the California view is unpopular on the Atlantic seaboard.

And in view of these facts and considerations it may be rash to assume with any confidence that the President will sign the bill. Probably the best hope of his acquiescence lies in the obvious fact that Congress has undertaken to shuffle all the responsibility on to his shoulders. Under such circumstances a man of spirit might conclude that he would not be trapped in such a way, and might sign the bill without any reference to his own convictions. Should he sign it, however, there will be no reason for special rejoicing, for the measure is at best tentative, and it is quite questionable whether it will produce any appreciable improvement in the existing situation. We are disposed to believe that it will not have been a month on the statute book before the community in whose interest it was passed will have discovered that it does not really touch the root of the evil from which they suffer, and that it only provides for a slow and tedious change, which may occupy the lifetime of a generation.

As a means, therefore, of putting an end to popular clamor, we fully expect that the new bill will turn out a disappointment. It will effect but a momentary quiet, and when the uncertain and tedious nature of the cure proposed is generally realized, we shall not be surprised if the Pacific Coast becomes more exclamatory, objurgatory and insistent than ever. It does not seem to have occurred to the astute and supple politicians engaged in the negotiations that a case of this sort called for a really practical measure; for a measure, in short, where merits could be perceived and estimated from the day it went into effect. Any other kind of legislation was certain in the nature of things to fail of effect, yet our representatives evidently believe that when the President signs the bill there will remain nothing for California but to show her gratitude by supporting the Republican or Democratic party, as the case may be, for of course both parties will claim the honor of passing the bill, here, at the same time that they both disclaim the discredit of passing it, at the East.

THE KAISER'S OPTIMISM.

The old German Emperor has been celebrating his birthday with great rejoicings, and has received many compliments, whereto he replied in a speech which serves to show how different the imperial point of view is apt to be, from that which common people hold. Kaiser William thinks that Providence has selected him for the performance of great things, and that to this end he has been fortunate in the choice of his instruments. It must be admitted that Bismarck and Moltke were simply perfect instruments for the carrying out of a "blood and iron" programme; but whether that programme was one which a respectable and intelligent Providence would indorse, is quite another question. The notion which the old Emperor takes so much pleasure in, however, has been entertained by every crowned fool and knave the world has ever seen. The fact is that it is an idea which quite naturally and almost inevitably grows out of such situations. The first Napoleon probably held it in a different form. He was too confident in the splendor of his own genius to believe that he was simply a tool, but he did believe that Destiny befriended him. As to Emperor William, seeing that his game was aggrandizement, he was fortunate in having such powerful intellects as those of Bismarck and Moltke at his service. But it is perfectly certain that the history of Germany and Prussia during his reign has been made, not by the monarch, but by the minister. Bismarck has for many years been the real ruler of Germany. Without him the poor old Emperor would very soon be reduced to his natural level, which is that of a well-meaning, opinionated, not at all brilliant old man. How incapable he is of judging concerning what is passing around him is shown by his remark that "he had learned with pleasure "that the country largely approved his "recent message." It is true that there were people to tell Charles X. of France that in signing the ordinances which in a few hours cost him his throne, he had firmly established his dynasty, and therefore we need not be surprised that Emperor William's ear should have been abused by flatterers in regard to the late message. But it is notorious that the message has produced the most profound and universal dissatisfaction throughout Germany, and that the end of this dissatisfaction has not yet been reached. It is quite natural that the Emperor should recommend his people to cultivate a "fervent religious "feeling," though perhaps he should have said whether he meant a Catholic or a Protestant fervor, for the Catholic fervor has of late years produced embarrassing results in German legislation, and nobody knows this better than Prince Bismarck. A fervent religious feeling in the abstract, however, is always what autocratic rulers most wish to see cultivated, because it reconciles the people to despotism, persuades them that their government, no matter how meddlesome or intolerant, is heaven-sent, and causes them to reject those liberal sentiments and those intellectual researches which, by leading them to a higher mental plane, are calculated to render them impatient of their burdens. Where the Throne rests upon the Altar, religion is enlisted in the service of royalty, and this kind of alliance has so frequently been cemented that the popular distrust of the Churches which is a canon of continental Republicanism, is sufficiently explained by it.

WHY PARDONED?

Cashier Conant, who stole $70,000 from a bank, and who was condemned to seven years' imprisonment, has been pardoned by the President after serving two years, the plea being that his health had broken down under confinement. It is no doubt the case that the health of many prisoners breaks down, particularly when, through the exercise of favoritism, they are excused from the performance of the labor which would have kept their systems in good condition. But it is not to be credited that this particular criminal deserved pardon more than hundreds or thousands of others, and it will assuredly be concluded that he has been favored improperly because he had rich and influential friends in politics. The example is a bad one, moreover. Of all crimes perhaps the most common at this time is embezzlement. The instances of it of late years have been startlingly numerous, and have included scores of bank cashiers, many of whom have ruined the institutions with which they were connected, and have escaped punishment in the end. It is the more necessary to execute stern justice when it becomes possible in such cases. Conant's crime was a particularly bad one, and his sentence was just. He ought to have served it, and the only possible result of his pardon will be to spread abroad the belief that such offenses are venial, and easily compounded for.

THE IMMIGRATION ASSOCIATION.

The California Immigration Association met at San Francisco Tuesday. The Secretary's financial statement showed: Balance on hand, $415 17; received from subscriptions, $570 50; total, $985 87. Expended—On expense account, $75 60; on salary account, $250; total, $385. Balance in hands of Treasurer, $660 07. The income of the Immigration Office has been increased this month $47. The present regular subscription is $462. The pamphlet showing the workings of the Association for the past month will be issued during the current week. Inquiries from New Zealand for north California lands are announced. The pamphlet of the Shasta County Association is in preparation. The work done in the Land Office Department shows the magnitude of the business undertaken. One and one-half millions of acres of Government land of some character have been listed, and 700,000 acres more are learned of, which is about one-seventh of all the railroad grants of land in the State. Since the last report of officer C. H. Street nearly all the vacant land in Mendocino county, amounting to over 800,000 acres, has been listed. The character of all the Government land in Napa and Sonoma counties has been learned as far as the Surveyor-General's field notes will show it. Forty large plates in the latter county have been made and mounted. Nineteen large maps of Mendocino county lands have also been traced. The deficiency of description regarding these lands, occasioned by the meagerness of the surveyors' field notes, has been supplied by correspondence. Of eighteen persons who have been informed of the lands of the association since the last meeting, but three have returned. One colony of Germans has been located in Shasta county. The report of the Land Officer outlines the future labors of the association. Immigrants are always advised that there are no good Government lands in the old settled counties, and that if they would get productive lands they must go to the new districts, away from the railroads and large towns. The association is continually in receipt of descriptions of private lands for sale, but it has not been the policy of the association to undertake the sale of such.

BAKERS' UNION AND THE SUNDAY LAW. At San Francisco, at the recent meeting of the Bakers' Union, the most important business discussed was the advisability of taking steps under the Sunday law for the prevention of bakers' wagons delivering bread through the city on Sundays. It was claimed that Saturday night and Sunday work being an excess of the ninety hours worked during the previous six days of the week, was an outrageous imposition for which there existed no excuse, as the public did not desire such service. All present being in favor of encouraging and aiding the authorities in a general enforcement of the law, on motion, it was resolved "that the Bakers' Union of this city, while opposed to the enactment and enforcement of any law of a sumptuary character, or in any way limiting or proscribing citizens in the exercise of their constitutional privileges, and apart from the religious or fanatical features of the present agitation upon the Sunday law, we are in favor of its enforcement, prohibiting the running of bakers' wagons on that day, and hope the Chief of Police, in enforcing the law against saloons, will do so also against those who, by running their wagons on Sunday, force bakers to act as slaves."

"I CONSIDER it a great pleasure," writes A. J. Doak, Esq., manager of the American House, Amesbury, Mass., "to state that the inflammatory rheumatism which so severely affected my feet, yielded at once upon a few applications of the St. Jacobs Oil, which is worthy of the highest recommendation."

SAN FRANCISCO.

Oregon Steamer on the Rocks—Release of the Chinese Women—The Sunday Law Cases—Supreme Court Decision—Etc.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE RECORD-UNION.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 23d.—The steamer Columbia, from Portland, on entering the harbor this morning during a dense fog, went on the rocks just outside of Fort Point. She was got off at high water, and made rapid speed for the mud flats of Mission Bay, where she arrived with the water up to her fires, and the firemen waist deep in it. The damages will be considerable.

Judge Hoffman, of the United States District Court, to-day ordered the release of the Chinese women brought here by the steamer Anger Head, holding that there was no evidence that they were prostitutes.

The Sunday Law Cases.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 23d.—The excitement incident to the wholesale arrests of Sunday-law violators made yesterday showed signs this morning of moderation. The docketing of the 512 names on the City Prison register was finished this morning by the Prison Keeper, who placed them on to-morrow's docket. The list comprises 14 pages. The cases will, therefore, come up at 10 o'clock to-morrow in their proper Courts, when they will undoubtedly be continued in a body for a month or so. The League of Freedom has engaged an attorney for each Court.

Fire—Supreme Court Decision.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 23d.—A two story frame dwelling, No. 104 Fourteenth street, was partially destroyed by fire this evening. Loss, $1,500.

The Supreme Court to-day, by affirming the judgment of the lower Court in the case of Hughes vs. Bray, decided that a purchaser may recover damage in cases where the goods bought by sample are not up to the sample standard. The sample displayed in selling must be considered a warranty of the grade of the goods.

The Appointing Power.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 23d.—The Finance Committee of the Board of Supervisors will, at a meeting to-morrow, request the opinion of the City and County Attorney as to where the power is vested to appoint Police Commissioners, it being claimed by some that the appointing power rests with Governor Perkins. Others argue that the Supervisors may appoint, as the Commission is purely a local organization, and that the judicial tribunal by which the Commissioners were originally appointed being three Judges of District Courts has been succeeded by the Superior Courts created by the new Constitution.

Proposed Democratic Reorganization.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 23d.—The sub-committee of ten appointed several weeks ago to prepare a system for the reorganization of the Democracy of San Francisco, have issued a lengthly circular report, embodying a detailed and elaborate plan for accomplishing the purpose. Among other suggestions, it is proposed to organize forty-seven clubs in the city according to the number of voters. Another proposition is to provide for twenty-seven clubs. On the question of the number of clubs the committee are divided. As yet neither plan has been ratified. It is the purpose of the committee to effect a thorough and radical reorganization of the Democratic party in the city.

Sunday Law Violators Fined.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 23d.—Ah Toy and Chin Wy, who were arrested for having kept their places of business open last Sunday, pleaded guilty in Department Two to-day of the Police Court, and on motion of the attorney for the people they were fined $5 each.

AN ADDRESS.

Ministers and Other Citizens to the Mayor and Other Officers in San Francisco.

The following is the full text of the address of the San Francisco ministers and citizens favoring the Sunday law, on the occasion of their recent visit to the Mayor, Chief of Police and the Prosecuting Attorney of San Francisco:

Mr. Mayor and Gentlemen: Much effort has been and is being put forth to make the impression that the statute known as the Sunday law is an unjust an odious measure, impossible of enforcement. We believe that there exists an organization, or league, whose avowed purpose is to embarrass and defeat the enforcement of the law. Such a conspiracy is a hundred times more audacious, and, if not promptly and vigorously met, a thousand times more dangerous, than the illicit distillers in the mountains of Tennessee and North Carolina. Thus far this treasonable organization has had little less than an unchallenged career, insomuch that the unthinking have been deluded into the belief that its ostentatiously-paraded statements contain some substance of truth. Doubtless many of the conspiracy in question have been cajoled into the league under great unintelligence as to the turpitude of the crime contemplated and the magnitude of the danger involved in the disloyal experiment.

For these reasons, and all others which ought to modify the action of loyal citizens, we have deemed it expedient to assure you, the executive officers of the city, and through you all whom it may concern, that there is a large and determined majority of tax-paying citizens who desire and expect the enforcement of the law.

It is settled, as a matter of science and experience, that all laborers, all members of the employed classes, all workers with nerve and brain, must enjoy one day of rest in seven, in order to preserve physical, mental and moral health. The convenience of business, the harmony of the industries, the traditions of the nation, the lessons of our history, the recognitions of constitutional and common and statute law, the good order of society, the domestic quiet necessary to the full enjoyment of the benefits of the day, the structural plan of the American Government, and the suggestions of comprehensive statesmanship under it, point to the high expediency of designating one and the same day for the whole people. The day commonly called Sunday is the only day on which it would be possible to fix with any approach to a broad and intelligent agreement. It has been conspicuously recognized throughout our entire history by Constitutions, Legislatures and Courts. It is interwoven with the whole order of our national life, and could not be substituted without measureless confusion and loss. Other Sabbaths are days of religious observance by comparatively small numbers, and have no date value or commercial and legal significance in the general system. The law does not forbid any man to rest on any other day, nor does it forbid him to work on Sunday. So far, every man may satisfy his conscience and follow his bent. With designated exceptions, it very properly forbids him to keep open any place of business, or to compel or require others to work, or any place of mercenary temptation to lure the weak and unwary into wasteful expenditures, and into excesses which disquiet the day and defeat the intent of the law.

If, then, the civil Sabbath must of general necessity be one day, and that day Sunday, every dictate of prudence and manhood government suggests that the laborer's rest-day should be for health, home-life, and mental and domestic improvement; free alike from the exactions of capital, the oppressions of power, and the demoralizing solicitations of cupidity. No attempt is made to compel men to worship or to keep the Sabbath religiously, but only require them to be just to the profoundest needs of human nature in the relations of industrial, domestic and civil life. It cannot be but that every virtuous calling and every industry demanded by authentic civilization will be advantaged by the operation of the law. If there is any occupation which cannot tolerate such a law, that occupation must be at war with the best interests of society.

Such in brief, are the character and objects of the Sunday law. To assume that it cannot be enforced is to confess a weakness disreputable to the government and damaging to the reputation of the city and the State. To refuse to enforce it is to invite disorganization and anarchy. Sunday will be exceptionally a day of dissipation, domestic misery and public crime, or exceptionally a day of personal sobriety, domestic comfort and public quiet. Which it shall be will now depend on the supineness or vigor, the cowardice or courage, the perjury or fidelity of the functionaries charged with the execution of the law.

Without consuming time with argument, we hasten to assure you, sir, and gentlemen, of our unshaken confidence in the ability and official integrity of the executive officers of this city; and through you to say to all parties in interest that there is a large, calm and determined constituency, who not only desire the enforcement of the law, but are resolved to do what they may in every legitimate way to defeat the machinations of rebellion, and prevent such a triumph of conspiracy as would blast the good name of the city, and menace every law by which our liberties are guarded and every right we hold dear. We represent, directly, say fifty churches, with a large citizen membership, everyone of whom is law-abiding and—in case of need—may be relied upon as law-enforcing. Outside of this circle, which is unpotential only in the fancy of the uninformed, is another, composed of many hundreds of pledged temperance men in a single order, whose past activity is a presage of their future energy. Outside of this is a large number of members of other organizations, too intelligent to be deceived by a false cry, and too patriotic to stand supinely by and see the guaranties of liberty insolently trampled under foot in the purblind interest of a few whose gains depend on the amount of misery they can create. Outside of all these there is a still larger constituency of sober, industrious citizens, augmented by a multitude who have felt the power of appetite or suffered indirectly the scorchings of the fire, and therefore wish to remove temptation from the purview of their rest-day rambles, who will answer to any call the civil government may make upon them for maintaining the supremacy of law. Outside of all these is a great assemblage of wives, children, mothers of endangered sons, and sisters of imperiled brothers, whose rights are as sacred as though they were able to defend them by bayonet and ballot. These must be considered in any comprehensive measure of legislation for the public good.

Thus far this vast constituency has calmly waited for the decision of the highest Court. The calmness of their courage may have emboldened the demoralizers into the notion that the opposition to their disorganizing purposes would be timid and temporary. We are sure that you, Mr. Mayor and gentlemen, do not labor under such a misapprehension. We therefore make these deliberate statements much more in the hope of undeceiving the victims of misteaching, than to intimate to the executive officers of the municipal government the grave importance of promptly and vigorously discharging the functions which they are sworn to perform, and which have been insolently set at defiance.

For ourselves—if you will indulge us yet a moment—we try to keep the Sabbath in a Christian way. But, in pleading for a civil Sabbath, we speak only as citizens, conceding all the rights we claim, and claiming all that we concede. Clearly recognizing the fact that a people endowed with the ballot, and the right of private and public discussion, can have no valid reason for rebellion, we are accustomed to submit to laws which we do not approve till they can be lawfully repealed or amended. If any and every class or calling may usurp the powers of Legislatures and Courts, then government is at an end and anarchy ensues. For the base disloyalty of the mercenary leaders of this latest "whisky rebellion," therefore, who would purchase guilty gains at the price of treason, no language of denunciation is too strong; but we should do injustice to our convictions if we did not cherish a kinder feeling toward their dupes and tools, who, for obvious reasons, do not discern the logical consequences of their false position. Yet, it must not be forgotten that

> "Evil is wrought by want of thought,
> As well as want of heart."

Practically, "a blunder is as bad as a sin;" and the harm is doubly aggravated when the "blunder" is found to be under the adroit leadership of the "sin."

We will only tarry to assure you again of the conscientious support of a large and influential body of citizens, whose rights are too dear to them to be bartered for inglorious ease, and whose liberties, safe only while law is supreme, they will not consent to see jeopardized by a lawlessness which loudly and ludicrously proclaims itself in the prostituted name of Freedom.

If we have appeared to aim especially at one class, it is because that class only has proclaimed its purpose of non-submission to the law. This instance, being the first in the history of our State in which organized rebellion has openly challenged the Government, has an importance in its bearing upon the future which entitles it to so much distinction.

A St. Louis man has actually been caught bragging of the greatness of Chicago. He pleaded, in extenuation, that he was talking to an English barbarian, and was trying to convince the benighted heathen of the greatness of this country, and he mentioned Chicago as smaller than St. Louis. But good society in the latter city shuns him.—[Boston Post.

CARD.

I DESIRE TO STATE TO THE PUBLIC THAT Steamer and Hose Cart No. 1 responded as promptly to the fire alarm yesterday as it ever has to any call, notwithstanding the statement made in last evening's "Bee;" but it must be remembered that in a run of only two blocks steam cannot be got in sufficient quantity to work the steamer, but it got to work in a very short space of time, and in the mean time the stream taken from the plug was sufficient; the best evidence of this, and that good work was done, being that the fire was confined to the room where it originated.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

OUR SIDEWALKS.—Many and loud are the complaints of the pedestrians on J and K streets that the merchants use the entire sidewalk for making a display of their goods and wares. In fact on J street there are some two or three stores that use the entire sidewalk with the exception of about three feet in the center. They place much of their stock in trade on the sidewalk in the morning, and take it back in the store room in the evening. Some music-dealers leave their empty piano boxes on the walks for months at a time. Some grocers almost cover them up with codfish and potatoes. This is all wrong, and is a great inconvenience to the public. The attention of those merchants, also that of the police force, is called to Section 3 of Chapter 8 of the ordinances of this city, which reads as follows: "No person or business firm shall use any portion of the sidewalk in any part of the city for any purpose whatever, excepting only for the display of goods, wares and merchandise, and for the purpose of displaying goods, only four feet in width, commencing at the front line of the lot; provided, however, that merchants and others receiving and delivering goods shall be allowed six hours from the time they are deposited until they are removed; and, provided further, that a space of six feet in width shall at all times be kept clear for the accommodation of persons passing. Any person violating this ordinance, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by imprisonment in the city jail not exceeding ten days, or by fine not exceeding $500, or by both fine and imprisonment."

WAR AGAINST INSECT PESTS.—In May, 1881, the apple orchard at the Navato ranch, Marin county, was infested by a species of tent caterpillar—Clisiocampa constricta. In order to save part of the crop, it cost Mr. De Long $1,800. The number of caterpillars destroyed was immense, and the crop saved brought nearly $30,000. During the last two months a gang of men have been employed picking the rings of eggs deposited by the moths last fall off the trees. Mr. De Long forwarded to Matthew Cooke a package containing one-fourth of the eggs collected to the 18th inst; they weigh thirty-five ounces avordupois, and cost to gather $54. Probably about three pounds more will be gathered. Mr. Cooke has the specimens sent him in six sealed bottles, preserved in alcohol. It takes an average of 600 rings of eggs to weigh one ounce, each ring contains from 200 to 400 eggs, showing that the work done in this manner by Mr. De Long will be equal to the destruction of about 60,000,000 of caterpillars. Mr. Cooke says there is no doubt of Mr. De Long being master of the situation, so far as this pest is concerned. The specimens can be seen at the office of Mr. Cooke, and are worthy of the attention of fruit-growers. Another proof that perseverance will gain the victory.

BILLIARD TOURNAMENT.—The interest in the billiard contest at the parlors of the Union Hotel still increases. The spacious room is filled every evening by spectators, who manifest great interest in the contest. Last evening the game was played between T. Gleason and S. Bostwick. Mr. Gleason did some excellent playing, as the score below will show. His best run was 25. The score was as follows: Gleason—1 1 3 0 0 2 0 0 1 9 0 0 2 6 25 1 0 3 0 2 8 0 0 0 5 9 7 5 1 3 4 2 2 3 8 0 1 8 2 10 9 2 0 3 0 0 4 0 1 1 0 6 1 7 3 0 20—56 innings; average, 3 47. Bostwick—0 3 0 2 5 0 0 2 3 0 2 0 1 5 0 0 1 0 0 0 1 0 0 1 3 3 0 5 4 1 0 2 11 0 2 5 1 0 2 0 6 0 4 1 3 2 1 1 0 0 0 2 2 0 7—55 innings; average, 1 39.55. The game now stands as follows: Thomas Gleason, 2; Harry Gamble, 1; Russell Flint, 1. The fifth game of the tournament will be played this evening between Lloyd Amsden and Harry Gamble.

A SLIGHT BLAZE.

Unwarranted Aspersions of the Fire Department.

Shortly before 9 o'clock yesterday morning an alarm of fire was sounded from the Water Works. The department responded with its usual promptness, and the fire was soon extinguished with a very slight loss. The fire occurred in a China Joss house, the property of J. D. Tate, Second and I streets, and originated in the upper story of the building. The loss is some $250, and is covered by insurance in the Union Company of San Francisco, of which Cadwalader & Parsons, of this city, are agents. The above is a full, complete and truthful statement of the entire affair. Our evening contemporary, however, gave a very different statement. It said, "An alarm was sounded from box 22." There is no box 22. It was the alarm from the Water Works. It stated that "the fire originated in the basement." The fire originated in the upper story. It said, "No. 1 was slow in reaching the scene." No. 1 was playing a stream on the fire in just three minutes after the first alarm, and made the run in just two minutes and a half. Henry Guthrie, foreman of No. 1, in a card, says:

> I desire to state to the public that steamer and hose-cart No. 1 responded as promptly to the fire alarm yesterday as they have ever to any call, notwithstanding the statement made in last evening's Bee; but it must be remembered that in a run of only two blocks steam cannot be got in sufficient quantity to work the steamer. But it got to work in a very short space of time, and in the meantime the stream taken from the plug was sufficient, the best evidence of this, and that good work was done, being that the fire was confined to the room where it originated.

It stated that the "Hayes truck did not respond promptly, and that when it did arrive the many men who rode down on its side-planks did but little good, comparatively. There was an incessant hullabaloo all the while the fire was in progress, and it was generally asserted that the department proved itself on this occasion to be thoroughly incompetent." One of the heaviest underwriters in this city was present during the entire fire, and states that this assertion is entirely untrue. The Hayes truck arrived at the fire in exactly three and a half minutes, and went quietly to work. There was no noise or unusual hooting, but, on the contrary, it was one of the quietest and best-managed fires he had ever witnessed. The paper was not satisfied with condemning the firemen, engines and hose, but also attacked the horse of hose-cart No. 1. The horse is a new one, a little green, but is considered by all competent judges to be the best animal in the department. It also goes further, and insinuates that Engine No. 2 was at the time the alarm was given at Brighton or some other remote point in the county, and that when it reached the scene of the fire it was too late to be of service, and that the horses were in a "forlorn condition." The boys of No. 2 deny the accusation in toto. They state that they were at their engine-house on Tenth street when the alarm was sounded, promptly responded, and reached the fire as soon as could be expected by any reasonable person, taking the distance they had to travel—nine blocks—into consideration. It must be said for the present fire department that it is well and ably managed. The Fire Commissioners are all gentlemen who in every sense of the word are representative citizens. In selecting those composing the Paid Fire Department they have used commendable judgment, and to-day the Paid Fire Department of Sacramento city, from the Chief down to the humblest member, is equal to any, if not the best in the country.

These commendations of the firemen of Sacramento are not in the line of flattery. They are simply statements of fact, and it is but just to the department that they be made unmistakably plain. These men risk their lives, for small recompense, in protecting the lives and property of others, and all unprejudiced citizens are cognizant of the promptness and efficiency of the department, which misrepresentation and captious criticism will not tend to increase. The department has been made the subject of unwarranted attacks from the quarter indicated ever since the unfortunate death of Frank Ruhstaller's children, who perished in the flames last summer, when the firemen were indirectly charged by the same authority with lack of energy in attempting their rescue.

METROPOLITAN THEATER.—Leavitt's "Gigantean Minstrels" had a crowded house last night. They gave a thoroughly good performance; one of the best variety minstrel entertainments that has been presented to this public. The especially attractive features were, the thirty minstrels on the stage; the very fine orchestra; the musical imitations by P. C. Shortis; the comical acrobatic exercises of Conners and Kelly; the admirable female impersonations by Burton Stanley; the "Three Musical Rankins," well-known here; the wonderful imitations of birds and fine whistling and ventriloquial effects by Sloman; and the very amusing and well acted burlesque on the comic opera "La Mascotte." The leading vocalists are good, and are Sinclair, Lamont, Kellogg and Tyrell. The introduction of harp, cornet, trombone and violin in obligato during the first part was an especially pleasing feature. The whole entertainment is as good as any lover of modern negro minstrelsy ought to desire, and the audience last night gave unmistakable evidences of its satisfaction. The one fault to be found with it is the questionable taste of so much reference by the twelve end men to terms that refer to their knowledge of and the supposed familiarity of their auditors with gambling games. A little less of this is desirable. Another performance by the troupe to-night.

COMPANY B.—Company B, of the First Artillery Regiment, held their regular weekly drill last evening. About sixty members were present. Although the youngest company of the regiment it is one of the best drilled.

THERE ARE EIGHT REASONS why the Red House gets away with all the other boot and shoe houses in town, in kip boots and shoes: They never misrepresent them; they are made from full stock; all solid and firm sole-leather soles, and no paper used; they are made in the East by first-class mechanics; put together with standard screws, and cannot be ripped; are bought from first hands, and no middlemen paid; and every pair sold with a guarantee of satisfaction or money returned *

IF YOU are simply ailing—if you feel weak and dispirited without clearly knowing why—ten to one that you have been wearing boots and shoes bought at (perhaps) dry goods houses, where no pains are taken to give good fits. HONOR TO WHOM HONOR IS DUE.

There are few if any of our readers who do not know Mr. Henry F. Merritt, of the Board of Public Works. There are not many better known men in the city of Chicago; but what is more to the point is that Mr. Merritt is not only well but favorably known. Since Mr. Merritt first entered upon his career as a public man he has had countless friends and enemies—a fact that speaks volumes for that gentleman. He has always proven himself the soul of honor, whether in political or other matters wherein he has had dealings with the public. We now wish to say that Mr. Merritt was never known to be behind the times, but on the contrary he has always been in the lead in matters wherein the public good is concerned. Speaking of the public good, Mr. M. is a gentleman who decidedly possesses the knowledge of what is good for the public, and when he sees a good thing, unlike many others, he shares his knowledge with the public.

An attache of this paper lately met Mr. Merritt in the city buildings, and, while discussing the wants of the people and the various remedies employed in allaying them, Mr. Merritt said:

"There is one thing that strikes me as an excellent thing for the people; that is St. Jacobs Oil, the Great German Remedy. That is a medicine that will do all that is claimed for it by its proprietors, and more too, I am inclined to think. It is a medicine that possesses remarkable healing properties, and more effective in rheumatism than any other preparation for the cure of that disease that has ever been put up.

"I speak thus of the Oil because I had occasion to test its qualities and know, therefore, whereof I speak. I used St. Jacobs Oil for the rheumatism, and it cured me. I admit that I doubted its good qualities before I used it, but I do so no more. St. Jacobs Oil is a great remedy for the rheumatism and kindred diseases. Most people know it, and the sooner they all find that St. Jacobs Oil is a great thing, the better it will be for them." [Chicago Times.

They are shaped like Greek amphoræ, and give marked effect to a Grecian toilet, but owing to their high price they are destined to be the exclusive ornaments of the highly-favored of fortune.

Senator Hoar, of Massachusetts, is a man with respectable white side-whiskers. His style is lucid, smooth and classical. It is entirely without color or warmth, and when he becomes impulsive he is simply bitter, incisive and intensely cold, and his declamation is like a hail-storm. Senator Hoar has an idea that in being classical in style he is without faults. He is as cool as iced vinegar.

At the Eldred House: J. C. Real, J. L. Miller, city; E. A. Brown, Live Oak; Edward Riley and wife, Hicksville; W. A. Murphy, Sam. Gamble, Robert Mahone, J. O. Sherwood, J. A. Hutchinson, Phil. Mahan, Miss Mary Mahan, Cosumnes; John Long, Stone House; Jos. White, Hangtown Crossing; James Carbine, Michigan Bar; I. Roden, J. Doty, Geo. E. Wilson, Elk Grove; M. M. Thompson, C. H. West, Bodie.

An English scientist considers worry and overwork to be the most important causes of debility. The men, he says, who first enticed women and children into an industrial career, and they who have in later times devised the scheme of competitive examination, have done more to enfeeble the British than can be counterbalanced by the most perfect system of drainage and ventilation, with the highest personal cleanliness superadded.

Longfellow is seldom seen in public. He was a frequent theater-goer until the last year and a half. Now he is mostly confined to his house. This is the effect of a painful illness, from which, it is hoped, he may recover. Emerson still comes to Boston from Concord, but he is always attended and generally by his devoted daughter. Whittier, too, is feeling the effects of age the present winter, but he is seen occasionally in Boston, and he writes a good deal.

Hand-painting will occupy a high place in parasol adornment this year. Bead embroidery and arrasene will also be used to decorate them; but nothing is really desirable that adds to the weight of a sun-shade. A new model has a ring of seagulls flying around the border of a black satin sunshade, which is lined with silver gray and has a handle of chased silver. Another, made also of black satin, has for a design a small silvery pool, upon which some wild ducks are floating. Birds' nests, built among the grass or on the dead, moss-covered branches of old trees, with birds flying about in various attitudes, are other favorite designs. Sometimes a straggling floral pattern covers the lining, leaving the outside unadorned.

COMMERCIAL.

San Francisco Produce Market.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 23d—1 P. M.

A parcel of about 3,000 ctls good shipping changed hands at $1 57½. A lot of 300 tons No. 1 White was offered at $1 61¼, in warehouse, when a shipper agreed to pay that figure if delivered alongside, but the proposition was declined. FARMERS,

Stop and Think!

DO YOU WISH TO MAKE OR SAVE MONEY You can buy a GRAIN MILL which will grind all your feed, with wind or horse power, for One Hundred and Twenty-five Dollars. It can be operated with man power, and do a reasonable amount of work. It grinds or rolls the barley or corn, crushing it into fine meal, if so desired, or simply crack it. This cannot be done with the stone or roller, for the one grinds but cannot roll, and the other rolls but cannot grind; but my mill does both, either grinding or rolling. The prices range from One Hundred to Three Hundred Dollars. The small size mill will grind any amount from one ton to twenty tons in twenty-four hours, according to the power applied, and the larger will go sixty tons per day. Total weight of small mill, 175 pounds; of large mill, 575 pounds. Address WM. C. STILES, Sacramento, Cal m17-2p1m

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

For Purifying the Blood.

THIS COMPOUND of the vegetable alteratives, Sarsaparilla, Dock, Stillingia and Mandrake, with the Iodides of Potash and Iron, makes a most effectual cure of a series of complaints which are very prevalent and afflicting. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system that undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions on the skin are the appearance at the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs; Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side and Head; Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhea arising from internal ulceration, and Uterine Diseases, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE RECORD UNION.]

NEW YORK, March 23d.—Postmaster-General Howe was interviewed this morning regarding the proposed reduction of time in sending mails to and from New York and San Francisco and other western points. "I have a hope," said Howe, "if Congress makes the appropriations proposed by the Senate for special facilities for the transportation of mails on the trunk lines, that we may arrange a schedule which will send the mail from New York to the West or San Francisco and get a return in three days less than it takes now. It takes thirteen days at present to do this. Now the mails are carried on all the railway trains, and go when the passengers go. This subjects the mails to slow time and frequent delays. The mail for the West now lies in Chicago about four hours, and in Omaha and Kansas City three hours more. The railroad companies themselves will have to be consulted as to the method of overcoming these delays. Whether it shall be done by chartering one fast train between New York and Denver, overtaking the Union Pacific train twenty-four hours ahead of the present time, or whether it shall be done by expediting all trains between here and the Pacific coast, are questions to be answered by the railroad companies themselves. The public ought to have the service, and the Department wants to supply it."

United States Senate.

WASHINGTON, March 23d.—In the Senate the President pro tem. submitted a petition of the Good Templars of Illinois for an amendment to the Constitution, to prohibit the manufacture and sale of alcoholic beverages throughout the national domain.

A bill was introduced for the formation and admission into the Union of the State of Washington.

Morgan called up his concurrent resolution declaring for a reciprocity treaty with Mexico.

Sherman said there was opposition on both sides of the chamber to all reciprocity treaties, and moved a reference of the resolution to the Committee on Foreign Relations. Adopted.

Mahone, from the Committee on Agriculture, reported favorably the bill to establish a Bureau of Agricultural Industry, and to prevent the exportation of deceased cattle and the spread of contagious diseases among domestic animals.

The Tariff Commission bill then came up, and Garland made a speech favoring a reference of the subject of tariff to the members of Congress rather than to the experts appointed by the President.

Vance moved an amendment to the bill, directing that in the selection of Commissioners the President shall give representation to the agricultural and manufacturing interests in proportion to the capital invested and the number of persons engaged therein.

The bill then went over.

After an executive session the Senate adjourned.

House of Representatives—The Chinese Bill Passed.

WASHINGTON, March 23d.—Wednesday's session was continued, and the debate on the Chinese bill resumed.

Richardson favored the bill, and Morse, Dunnell, Orth and Joyce opposed it.

Thursday's session was then opened.

Dunnell, from the Committee on Ways and Means, reported back the bill to amend the laws relating to internal revenue. Calendar.

The discussion of the Chinese bill was then resumed by Pacheco and Townshend of Illinois in favor, and Robinson of Massachusetts against it.

An amendment reducing the term of suspension to ten years was rejected—131 noes against 100 ayes.

An amendment reducing the term of suspension to fifteen years was rejected—99 against 81.

Curtin of Pennsylvania then spoke earnestly in advocacy of the bill, and was much applauded.

Cannon of Illinois followed on the same side.

At 3 o'clock the previous question was demanded, which was seconded by a practically unanimous vote.

One hour being allowed for closing the debate, Page yielded ten minutes to Robinson to finish his remarks.

Page closed the debate, and the House, at 5:15, passed the bill without amendment by 177 ayes against 65 noes.

Following is the vote in detail:

Ayes—Aiken, Aldrich, Armfield, Atkins, Bayne, Belford, Belmont, Berry, Bingham, Blackburn, Blanchard, Bliss, Blount, Brewer, Brumm, Buckner, Burrows of Missouri, Butterworth, Cabell, Caldwell, Calkins, Campbell, Cannon, Cassidy, Caswell, Chalmers, Chapman, Clark, Clements, Cobb, Converse, Cook, Cornell, Cox of New York, Cox of North Carolina, Covington, Cravens, Culberson, Curtin, Darrell, Davidson, Davis of Illinois, Davis of Missouri, Demott, Deuster, Dezendorf, Dibble, Dibrell, Dowd, Dugro, Ermentrout, Errett, Farwell of Illinois, Finley, Fowler, Ford, Forney, Fulkerson, Garrison, Geddes, George, Gibson, Guenther, Gunter, Hammond of Georgia, Hardy, Harmer, Harris of New Jersey, Hazeltine, Hatch, Hazelton, Heilman, Herndon, Hewett of New York, Hill, Hiscock, Hoblitzell, Hoge, Holman, Horr, Houck, House, Hubbell, Hubbs, Hutchins, Jones of Texas, Jones of Arkansas, Jorgenson, Kenna, King, Klotz, Knott, Ladd, Leedom, Lewis, Marsh, Martin, Milson, McClure, McCook, McKenzie, McKinley, McLane, McMillan, Miller, Mills of Texas, Money, Morey, Moulton, Murch, Mitchler, O'Neill, Pacheco, Page, Paul, Payson, Peeble, Phelps, Phister, Pound, Randall, Reagan, Rice of Missouri, Richardson, Robertson, Robinson, Rosecrans, Scranton, Shellenberger, Sherwin, Simonton, Singleton of Mississippi, Smith of Pennsylvania, Smith of Illinois, Smith of New York, Sparks, Spaulding, Speer, Springer, Stockslayer, Strait, Talbott, Thomas, Thompson of New York, Tilman, Townsend of Ohio, Townshend of Illinois, Tucker, Turner of Georgia, Turner of Kentucky, Updegraff of Ohio, Upson, Valentine, Vance, Vanhorn, Warner, Washburne, Webber, Wellborn, Whitthorne, Williams of Alabama, Willis, Willetts, Wilson, Wise of Pennsylvania, Wise of Virginia, W. The Anti-Chinese Triumph—The Question of a Veto.

WASHINGTON, March 23d.—The long and difficult struggle for the attainment of effective legislation to restrict Chinese immigration was brought to a triumphant conclusion this afternoon, for in view of the overwhelming majority by which the bill was passed by the House of Representatives, superadded to the practically two-thirds vote by which it passed the Senate, there is no longer any talk about a veto, and even if the President were capable of entertaining such an idea, the bill would unquestionably be passed over his veto.

Anti-Polygamy Bill Approved by the President.

WASHINGTON, March 23d.—The President has approved the anti-polygamy bill.

The Peruvian Company Investigation—Shipherd Still on the Stand.

WASHINGTON, March 23d.—The examination of Shipherd was resumed this morning. He stated that he would waive the technical objection he had raised, and would state that the Senator to whom he alluded was Blair of New Hampshire. He further stated that with one exception there was no other Senator or member of Congress who had been in any way interested as counsel or been approached with views of securing his services. This gentleman, Shipherd said, was asked to act as counsel, and declined on the ground that he might be called upon, as a member of Congress, to pass upon the claims of the Peruvian Company. With this exception and that of the Senator named, there was no other instance of any efforts to secure the services of a member of either house of Congress.

Blount inquired, "What were your reasons for employing Senator Blair as counsel? Was it on account of his relations with the Secretary of State, or simply in his capacity as an attorney?"

Witness replied that he would like to reserve his answer until the committee should have decided whether this matter should be gone into at the present time.

Blount then asked what was the inducement which impelled him to seek the services of the member of Congress who had declined; whether it was on account of his supposed influence with the Executive, or for the purpose of obtaining his advice as a lawyer.

The witness said: "It was for reasons purely personal to the member himself, as distinguished from any aid that he might render as a member of Congress."

The witness declined to give the second Congressman's name at present, and also demurred to stating the details of any purely personal transactions.

Some discussion on the part of the committee ensued as to whether they should pursue this branch of inquiry at present.

The Chairman stated that Shipherd desired to be excused from further examination this morning on account of his health, and perhaps it would be better to pass on this request before proceeding with further examination. The question was, therefore, waived for the present.

Witness produced a copy of his (witness') letter to the President of May 21st, and explained that it had been sent to him by his son, who had been requested to make a copy from his letter-book, and that he (Shipherd) after critical examination, was prepared to say that it was a correct copy. The letter was read by the clerk. It was quite long, and rehearsed in detail the claims and plans of the Peruvian Company. The letter referred to inclosures naming the prospectus of the company, the draft of the agreement with Peru, and the claim of title of the Peruvian Company, and stated that it was deemed best to lay the whole matter before the President, and to avail themselves of such suggestions as he (the President) may deem proper to be made in the premises. It stated that no difficulty was anticipated in the settlement of differences without asking further Government aid than that already indicated. It spoke of the magnitude of the interests involved and the estimated value of the guano at a thousand million dollars, and it indicated that it was expected General Grant would be President of the company, and that its Board of Directors would include gentlemen equally well known and prominent capitalists.

At the conclusion of this reading Shipherd said he had been engaged in a lively flirtation with neuralgia, which had deprived him of rest and unfitted him for fatigue. He would therefore crave the indulgence of the committee, and asked to be excused for the day. Adjourned.

Blaine and the Chile-Peruvian Question.

WASHINGTON, March 23d.—The Post will print to-morrow morning an interview with ex-Secretary Blaine on the latest phase of the Chile-Peruvian question, in which he reiterates his former published views, and says the general result is precisely what he predicted when Trescott's instructions were revoked. Upon being asked what he meant by "general result," he answered, "I mean, as I said in January, that Peru is to be desolated and destroyed, and that the profits of the spoliation will be divided between Chile and the English bondholders and speculators who furnished her money and guns and the ironclads that destroyed Peru. It is stated in a Chilean newspaper that the Treasury Department of Chile has issued a decree asking for bids for 1,000,000 tons of guano, to be extracted from the guano beds of Peru now in possession of Chile. Every cargo must be paid for, so the advertisement runs, in good sterling exchange—English money, mark you—at ninety days after sight. One-half goes to Chile and one-half to the English bondholders, and Chile binds herself to deposit 50 per cent. of the proceeds of the guano in the Bank of England."

The Arctic Explorers—Plan of Search for the Missing Men.

WASHINGTON, March 23d.—Secretary Hunt this afternoon received the following:

YAKUTSK, January 10, 1882.

Hon. Secretary of the Navy, Washington, D. C.—Sir: I have the honor to submit the following plan for the search for the missing people of both boats; also a schedule of provisions, lists of outfits and other articles necessary for six months, if compelled to remain at the Lena delta for the river to freeze over before being able to return to Yakutsk, the supplies being duplicated by the Russian authorities at Yakutsk. It may be well to state at this time that all the supplies used at Belun or the Lena delta are carried on pack-horses or deer sledges for a distance of 200 versts, and this mode of travel from Belun to Yakutsk is the only practical one in the winter time. Therefore it may be possible that we may be obliged to remain at or near Belun until November, 1882. The search will be carried on by three parties, as follows: I propose to establish a depot at Belun for all supplies, with my center of operations at Two Crosses, near Mount Jai. One party is to go as far north as Sisteranke and back to Two Crosses; one party to work south half way to Bulcour, one party to work from Bulcour north to Two Crosses. These three parties should be able to search the whole of the country between Sisteranke and Bulcour, and twenty days after leaving the depot, this being completed, the depot will be moved to Cathconelie, between Sisteranke and Qvina. One party is to follow the southern and western branches of the Lena as far as the river Alanck, the second party to follow the northwestern branch of the Lena and work up towards Upper Belun, the third party to work from Upper Belun, on the northwest coast, southwest to meet the second party. This will complete the search for Lieutenants DeLong and Chipp as far west as Inner Alanck. This being completed, I will establish a depot at Perovinana—No. 6. Two parties are to start from Perovinana, and one party to follow the north branch of the Lena, the other to follow the coast line and west until they meet, both returning across the country to Trovarnia, at No. 18. One party to entirely circumscribe the southern portion of the country from No. 18, first southeast, then north, turning southwest, then turning east back to Trovarnia. Two other parties are to search the coast as far as Barkin, and west as far as the branch leading southwest to Ustend. Then I will move the depot to Bucoff, and search all the coast line from Bucoff southeast to Light of Day. Two parties are to go east from Bucoff to the coast line, and one party is to work north and east to its north cape, and then back to Bucoff. The other party is to go south, and meet the first party, both returning to Bucoff. This can be accomplished before the snow floods set in. It will be necessary that the melting of the ice of the river occurs before attempting to work along the coast in a boat toward the Iana river. From the position of the three boats before separation—only 50 miles northeast of Barkin, and a gale coming from the northeast—it seems impossible for the second cutter to be driven to the eastward of the Iana. By the advice and consent of General P. Tchineroff, I have hired Buhokoff for 100 roubles per month, and a Cossack Sergeant, Peter Kolenkin, at 50 roubles per month, also to supply them with food and clothing during our absence. Have telegraphed Mr. Siberikoff, owner of the steamer Lena, to detail Captain Guenberck, of the Lena, to accompany me to the Lena Delta, to assist in the search. Three traveling parties will be arranged as follows: P. A. Engineer Melville and Captain Guenbreck, with a Yakut dog-sled and driver; the second party to consist of William C. F. Ninderman (seaman) and Buhokoff, with a Yakut dog sled and driver; the third party to consist of J. H. Bartlett, first-class fireman, and Cossack Sergeant Kolenkin, with a Yakut dog-sled and driver. Reindeer flesh and fish can be procured during the summer at the Lena delta. I will be at Belun by February 15th, and the search is to commence by March 1st, or as soon as the spring storms will permit. Inclosed please find ration table and chart of the Lena delta, with the depots marked thereon; also copies of letters to General Tchineroff, by his request, about the condition of his people in his district; a copy of a telegram to Mr. Siberikoff for the services of Captain Guenbrock, and a copy of the instructions to Bieshoff of Belun, to continue the search until my return. The instructions were written at Virkansk, and transmitted by an exile and sent back to Bischoff, he having verbal instructions to commence the search at once, a reward being offered for the recovery of the people, books or papers. General P. Tchineroff has guaranteed to have all the supplies at Belun by February 15th. My party will leave as soon as possible, and live on such food as the country affords. I have the honor to be, etc.,

GEORGE W. MELVILLE,
Passed Assistant Engineer, U. S. N.

Confirmation—Nominations.

WASHINGTON, March 23d.—The Senate to-day confirmed A. L. Morrison, of Illinois, as United States Marshal for New Mexico.

The President has made the following nominations: John H. Smith, of North Carolina, to be Minister Resident and Consul-General of the United States to Liberia; Emery P. Blanchard, of Indiana, to be United States Consul at St. Gale; James W. Wilson, of Missouri, to be United States Consul at Three Rivers.

The Star Route Prosecutions.

WASHINGTON, March 23d.—The cases of the United States against Thomas J. Brady, ex-Senator S. W. Dorsey, H. M. Vail and others, defendants in the star route cases, were called in the Criminal Court this morning. None of the defendants were in Court. Counsel for the defense said they were not prepared to plead. Colonel Bliss said the Government had waited long enough. He understood that one of the principal defendants had shown his appreciation of the importance of the charges against him by leaving this city for New Mexico. He stated that Stephen W. Dorsey had not been placed under bonds, and asked the Court to compel his attendance. Colonel Ingersoll said there was no need of such proceedings. There was nothing in the charges to cause Dorsey's flight. He is no more afraid of them than is hunger of mince pie. The prosecution, however, insisted upon Dorsey's arrest, and the Court said it was their privilege to have the order issued. The hearing was then postponed until Saturday.

The Situation in the Mississippi Valley.

YAZOO CITY, March 23d.—The river is falling. The extreme suffering reported on the Tallahatchie is greatly exaggerated. The exodus from the Yazoo delta is about ended.

HELENA (Ark.) March 23d.—For the Red river section 5,000 half-rations have been supplied till May 1st, and if the water don't fall soon 18,000 persons may become destitute.

VICKSBURG, March 23d.—The Sunflower river is 48 feet 1 inch—from two to three feet higher than ever known before. The people on the banks have about two weeks' supply of provisions, and have been furnished grain for their stock. Some cattle picked up from rafts were brought here by the steamer from Sunflower, which also brought 150 passengers, many entirely destitute. One hundred thousand rations are coming here for distribution at other points. At Newton the people and stock are in a deplorable condition. Captain Lee recommends 70,000 rations for the destitute in the Yazoo, Tallahatchie and Sunflower river sections.

Small-Pox in an Iowa Jail.

CHICAGO, March 23d.—The Evening Journal's Des Moines (Iowa) special says: Small-pox developed in the County Jail yesterday, creating consternation among the twenty inmates and among the Court and county officials, the jail being under the Court-house. The Court adjourned in haste, and the premises are quarantined. Two convicts have been removed to the pest-house. The doctors disagree as to the diagnosis of the cases.

Collector Robertson and the Peruvian Company.

NEW YORK, March 23d.—In regard to the Peruvian Company investigation, Collector Robertson said this morning: "I have read the testimony given by Shipherd yesterday before the House committee, and so far as that testimony relates to me, Shipherd has stated the facts tersely and fairly. I was employed by the Peruvian Company to examine questions affecting the company, and to give a legal opinion. This I did, and was paid for it, and that comprises my entire connection with the company. The question that I was asked to examine was concerning the company's claims to be made against the Peruvian Government. Further than this I have nothing to say."

Changes of Station.

WASHINGTON, March 23d.—Among the changes of station in the Quartermaster's Department recommended by General Ingalls are: Saxon from the division of the Pacific to Jeffersonville; Hodges from Arizona to San Francisco; Batchelder from San Francisco to Washington. These recommendations have not been approved yet by the Secretary of War, and there are efforts being made to change some of the assignments.

Destruction by Fire.

ANDOVER (N. H.), March 23d.—The Proctor House, in the Kearsarge mountains, was burned to-day. Loss, $75,000; no insurance.

CINCINNATI, March 23d.—Holmes' cracker factory was burned to-day. Loss, $30,000.

LEAVENWORTH (Ks), March 23d.—The large flouring mills and elevator of Warren & Cole were burned this afternoon. The cause was a dust explosion. A. B. Haven, of the firm of John Oday, and one or two other employes were seriously injured. Twenty thousand bushels of wheat and about $12,000 worth of flour were stored in the elevator. The loss is estimated at $60,000, with $54,000 insurance.

Called Session of the Illinois Legislature.

SPRINGFIELD, March 23d.—The State Legislature met at noon to-day in a called session, heard the Governor's message, and after transacting little business adjourned.

Temperance and Sabbath Observance.

COLUMBUS (O.), March 23d.—Richard Smith's Temperance Convention passed resolutions urging the Legislature and the Governor to continue to adopt the Smith amendment in regulating the sale of liquor and maintaining the sanctity of the Sabbath.

A Disgraced Judge.

ST. PAUL (Minn.), March 23d.—The Senate, sitting as a Court of Impeachment, met in open session to-day, and formally certified its judgment against Judge Cox, impeached for drunkenness. The sentence is removal from office and disqualification from judicial office for three years.

Twenty Thousand Men Out of Work.

TROY (N. Y.), March 23d.—Owing to the strike of 700 molders, nearly all the shops are closed, throwing 20,000 men out of work.

The Lawrence Strike.

LAWRENCE (Mass.), March 23d.—The weavers of the Pacific Mill, now on a strike, are ready for settlement by arbitration. If the lockout continues another week, the city government will increase the appropriation for the street, health and pauper departments.

Found Dead in the Street.

LITTLE ROCK (Ark.), March 23d.—The dead body of an unknown white man was found in the street in the residence part of Houston this morning. His head had been split with an ax and his neck broken. It is thought he was thrown from the second story of a house near by. There was nothing on the body to identify it.

Longfellow Ill.

BOSTON, March 23d.—The poet Longfellow is seriously ill with inflammation of the bowels.

Alexander H. Stephens.

CHICAGO, March 23d.—Alex. H. Stephens appeared in the House in his little wheeled chair to-day for the first time in a week or two, having been confined to his room by illness. He says the reports that he has decided to retire from public life at the expiration of his present Congressional term are true, and that he had decided on this course four years ago.

Bark Ashore.

NEW YORK, March 23d.—The bark T. Jeffie Southard, hence for San Francisco January 29th, is ashore at Natal, Brazil, south of Cape Strogus, and is a total loss. Part of the cargo was saved, but is of little value.

Eastern Journals and the Chinese Bill.

NEW YORK, March 23d.—The Chinese bill is the question of the hour. All the journals dissect the ayes and nayes on the measure as passed, and on Kasson's amendment, and comment on those who dodged or voted wrong or paired.

LONDON, March 23d.—In the House of Commons to-day Gladstone moved an additional annuity of £10 000 for Prince Leopold, and a pension of £6,000 yearly for his widow, in the event of this death. Samuel Sterry (Radical member for Sunderland) objected to spending the public money in the support of titled idleness. Labouchere, Broadhurst and Healy (Advanced Liberals) also opposed the grant. The motion was passed—387 to 42.

MEN OF THE HOUR.

JACOB R. SHIPHERD,

PROJECTOR OF THE NOTORIOUS "PERUVIAN COMPANY."

JACOB R. SHIPHERD was born in central New York, and is now about forty-five years of age. He found his chief educational advantages at Oberlin College, Ohio, and being an assiduous student, graduated with high honors. His strong religious nature inclined him to select the Church as his life-calling, and he took a thorough course at the Divinity School connected with the college. He soon began to preach, and, having a fervid and popular manner, his progress was so rapid that he was called to the pulpit of Plymouth Congregational Church in Chicago—an important and leading factor in the Congregationalism of the West. Here he remained for some years, and gave high satisfaction both as preacher and pastor. In those early days he devised the plan of paying church debts, since made so popular, and by his own efforts and earnestness collected money to relieve more than one struggling congregation of its burden. During the war, Rev. Mr. Shipherd, true to his Oberlin education, felt the liveliest interest in the condition of the freedmen, and deeming the Freemen's Aid Society under the auspices of the Government inadequate to the needs of the newly enfranchised, he took active measures for the harmonizing of other interests, and was chosen President of the resulting organization known as the "Freedmen's Union Aid Commission." The association was very effective in promoting the objects for which it was brought into being, and when the freedmen were finally thrown wholly upon their self-reliance, Mr. Shipherd retired with expressions of gratitude and congratulation on the part of his associates. During these active years, also, he resolved to establish an organ of Congregationalism in Chicago, and interested a sufficient number of people in the project to found the Advance, a paper which is now too well known to need further reference.

In 1869 he resigned his pastorate and opened a real estate and loan office in Chicago, with General Sweet as partner. General Sweet soon after left the firm to accept the office of Pension Agent. Mr. Shipherd's business throve, good Eastern relations were secured, and the next year he established a bank. He was made Trustee of the Riverside Company, one of the great suburban enterprises of Chicago, and he laid out and founded the town of Elmhurst. A branch New York house was now established, and, meantime, to keep pace with the prosperity of the bank, other branches, in Boston, and in Frankfort, Germany. In the fall of 1872 Mr. Shipherd secured control of the South Side Railroad of Long Island, and conceived the scheme (which others, in succeeding better times, accomplished) of consolidating the Long Island roads under one management—his own. Suddenly came the great panic of 1873, and Mr. Shipherd's numerous projects were engulfed. He worked for several years to extricate himself from the entanglement, and at last, it is said, paid the last cent of his obligations. In 1877 he entered the Law School of the University of New York, and the next year was admitted to the bar. He established his office at No. 10 Spruce street, where he has remained ever since.

He is now best known as President of the Peruvian Company, which is said to own the Cochet and Landreau claims against the bankrupt republic of Peru, aggregating the stupendous sum of nine hundred millions of dollars.

There are many at the age of thirty to sixty who are troubled with too frequent evacuation of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight smarting or burning sensation, and a weakening of the system in a manner the patient cannot account for. On examining the urinary deposits a ropy sediment will often be found, and sometimes small particles of albumen will appear, or the color will be of a thin milkish hue, again changing to a dark and torpid appearance. There are many men who die of this difficulty, ignorant of the cause, which is the second stage of seminal weakness. Dr. S. will guarantee a perfect cure in all such cases, and a healthy restoration of the genito-urinary organs.
